FROM THE EDITOR...

1982's Cafe Flesh is certainly a landmark triple-X rated film. Directed by Rinse Dream (of Nightdreams fame), the surreal sci-fi flick is still a midnight movie favorite. The story takes place after the nuclear holocaust. Most survivors are incapable of sexual relations. They gather in places like Cafe Flesh to watch the few remaining "sexual positives" perform for the spellbound and hopeless population who can only watch. It virtually mocks, quite effectively, the mindset of porn fans who would rather be a voyeur than a participant.

Veteran porn performer/director Bill Margold says "As The Wild Bunch was a violent film about anti-violence, Cafe Flesh is a sex film which is anti-sex. It's like sticking a perfect pair of tits in a barbed wire bra." Jim Holliday, the acknowledged official historian of adult films, says "It's the best explicit film ever made that is completely lacking in eroticism." Often considered the hardcore Rocky Horror Picture Show, the film starred a little known beauty who called herself Pia Snow.

Pia would later be known as Michelle Bauer. In Invasion of the B-Girls, Michelle says "I loved the script, but I insisted they use doubles for the sex scenes...I never put that one on my resume because it did get an X rating..." Director Dream confirms that "We inserted penetration closeups that were shot with one of the other actresses. In the climactic scene, she's so convincing as a woman who is finally coming awake sexually, you don't even notice the camera trickery."

The daughter of a nursery school teacher, Los Angeles born Michelle Medvitz began her performing career by answering an ad for figure models. She posed for a variety of publications under a variety of names, including Michelle McClellan. When she went by "Michelle Bauer," her first husband threatened to sue since that was actually his surname.

Within two years, she'd become a Penhouse centerfold as well as making her mark in several extremely explicit adult films, such as Bad Girls. She was so lovely, she was often featured on video boxcovers for hardcore films in which she doesn't even appear.

As horror B-movie production became more prolific in underground Hollywood, Michelle was one of the women who could be depended on to be stripped, chased and mutilated while blowing out theater speakers with her terrified screams. She was still Michelle McClellan in Hollywood Chainsaw Hookers.

She's very candid about her subsequent boob job. "I didn't like what I was born with. It was a very difficult decision to make because it was shortly after my transition into movies and I was getting more magazine offers, but that wasn't the point. It was for me."

Michelle is now one of the original reigning Scream Queens, having starred in contemporary cult classics like Fred Olen Ray's Beverly Hills Vampire and USA Up All Night staples like Sorority Babes In The Slimeball Bowl-A-Rama. She can also be seen (usually nude and screaming, 'natch) in Maximum Security, Naked Instinct, One Million Heels B.C., Assault Of The Party Nerds, Attack Of The Sixty Foot Centerfold, Nightmare Sisters (the uncut version features near-hardcore scenes which also star fellow scream queens Linnea Quigley and Brinke Stevens), and on TV in Butterscotch and Click.

This edition of Scream Queens Undressed contains pictures from one of her first ever photo shoots, when she was a mere slave of eighteen. These photos have remained hidden in the archives of the photographer, Jerome Bischoff, until now. Future editions will uncover more rare and unseen photos, as well as offering up comic biographies, historical articles, illustrated pinups and more. Feel free to write in with your own suggestions. And enjoy the pristine beauty of the young Miss Bauer.
